Christmas in Baroque Salzburg:

Heinrich Biber and his Contemporaries

Claire Coleman soprano

Psalmody, SVF Childrens' Choir, Essex Baroque Orchestra
directed by Peter Holman harpsichord

A concert to transport you to the splendour of Baroque Salzburg around 1700, when the great violinist and composer Heinrich Biber was Kapellmeister to the court. Biber's festive Missa Sancti Henrici, scored for soloists, choir, trumpets and drums and strings, was his swansong. We intersperse its movements with Christmas carols, sonatas and motets by Biber and his contemporaries, as would have been done at the time. As usual we are joined by a choir of local schoolchildren, trained by Tom Stapleton.

Ad Cor: Heartfelt Music for Voices and Viols

Philippa Hyde soprano, Stuart O'Hara bass

Psalmody, London Viols
directed by Peter Holman

A programme of superb 17th-century music for voices, viol consort and continuo, taking its title Ad Cor from Buxtehude's vocal concerto, the high point of his cycle Membra Jesu Nostri. The main works are Schütz's Seven Last Words of Jesus Christ on the Cross and Charpentier's great Litany of the Virgin. There is also music by Michael Praetorius and other French and German contemporaries.

We end with a haunting funeral aria by Johann Christoph Bach, a memorial to Julia King (1958-2019), a longstanding and valued member of Psalmody.

THE SUFFOLK VILLAGES FESTIVAL 2020

Friday 28 to Monday 31 August

Handel: Theodora

Philippa Hyde soprano, Laura Hocking mezzo-soprano
Dominic Mattos countertenor, Matthew Keighley tenor
Stuart O'Hara bass

Psalmody, Essex Baroque Orchestra
directed by Peter Holman harpsichord

Theodora, the masterpiece of Handel's old age, was said to be his favourite oratorio. Set in 4th-century Antioch, it concerns the martyrdom of Theodora, a noble Christian lady and her lover Didymus, a Roman officer, at the hands of the villainous Roman governor Valens. Handel responded to Thomas Morell's tragic drama with music of superb quality, by turns passionate, dramatic and full of pathos.

Giulia Frasi, the first Theodora

Peter Holman's vivid and authoritative performances of Baroque music have delighted audiences for many years. A strong team of soloists is led by SVF favourite Philippa Hyde and includes several of the exciting young singers who featured in Monteverdi's Il ritorno d'Ulisse at the last Festival.

Tickets £18 (reserved), £12 (unreserved), reserved seats for three concerts £48
